EXECUTIVE ORDER 14-06

SERVE WASHINGTON

PREAMBLE

One of Washington State's most valuable resources is the commitment of its citizens to service and volunteerism. Since its creation in 1994, the Washington Commission for National and Community Service has helped carry on our long tradition of citizen involvement by providing opportunities for Washingtonians of all ages to improve their communities through service. In adapting state government to meet 21st century demands and opportunities, we must ensure that our approach to fostering volunteerism and citizen service remains as innovative as our state.

WHEREAS, the National and Community Service Trust Act of 1993 required the Governor to establish and maintain a state Commission on Service to be eligible for federal support of national service efforts;

WHEREAS, Governor Lowry established the Washington Commission for National and Community Service on February 17, 1994, and charged it with improving lives, strengthening communities, and fostering civic participation through service and volunteering; and
